ATLANTA - The U.S. Small Business Administration is reminding businesses in South Carolina that Economic Injury Disaster Loans are still available to small businesses economically affected by the closure of the McTeer Bridge April 26, 2007.

“Businesses that suffered economic losses as a result of the disaster and want to apply for low-interest loans from the SBA are urged to do so before the May 22 deadline,” said Frank Skaggs, Director of SBA Field Operations Center East.

Small businesses in the following counties are eligible to apply: Beaufort, Colleton, Hampton and Jasper in the State of South Carolina.

The interest rate on these loans is 4 percent, with a maximum term of 30 years. The SBA determines the amount of economic injury and the terms of each loan based on the financial circumstances of each borrower. The SBA determines eligibility for the program based on the size and type of business and its financial resources. Loan amounts and terms are set by the SBA and are based upon each applicant’s financial condition.
